organist; Sopranos—Mrs. William Mudd, Mrs. E. Metcalfe, Mrs. J. A. Cooper, Misses C. Hermes, P. Effinger, Jennie Head, Agnes Head and C. McGuire.
Altos—Misses Mary Sullivan and Gertrude McCahe. Tenors—Messrs. M. Reichert and L. Junker. Basses—Messrs. Adam Hermes, Edward Glaser and Henry

About one year ago the Rev. Father John T. O'Connor called a meeting of the men in his parish and laid before them facts which indicated the need of a more commodious building both for church and parochial school purposes.
It was deemed wise both by pastor and parishioners that the time was not yet ripe for building such a church as the congregation will require within the next decade; but it was deemed advisable to build a combination church and school building. The laymen set about their work with a will and in all things have been guided by and have co-operated with their pastor, Father O'Connor.
Thanks to their united efforts the building is now completed. The school halls will accommodate from 300 to 500 pupils.
On the second floor is a hall, which for the present will be used as a church. It will seat comfortably 700 people. It is the pride of South Louisville, a credit to the parish and an ornament to the city.

The following flourishing societies are connected with the Holy Name church: St. Anthony's Society, with over 100 members, laymen of the parish. These men meet at 8:30 o'clock on the morning of the third Sunday of each month. The object of this society is to aid in beautifying and furnishing the interior of the church and the furtherance of the teachings of Our Holy Mother the Catholic church, celebrating the anniversary, etc.
The members receive holy communion in a body each month. The officers are:
Spiritual Director, Rev. Father John T.
O'Connor; President, P. J. Gnan;
Vice President, P. J. Klein; Recording Secretary, R. I. Nugent; Financial Secretary, Michael Reichert; Treasurer, Albert J. Richards.

St. Ann's Altar Society is made up of the married ladies of the parish. It has practically the same object as St. Anthony's Society. It has a membership of ninety, with the following officers: Spiritual Director, Rev. Father John T.
O'Connor; President, Mrs. Mary Ludwig; Vice President, Mrs. C. J. Baker; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Richards.

The Young Ladies' Sodality, as its name implies, is made up of the young ladies of the parish, and has seventy-five members. The officers are: Pres. Hester, C. Hermes; First Assistant Pres. Hester, P. Effinger; Second Assistant, Miss
A. Effinger; Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Mary Sullivan.

Branch 71, Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, has the following officers: President, Joseph Effinger; Vice President, J. Effinger; Recording and Financial Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Williams; Treasurer, W. A. Williams; Reporter,

Mrs. A. J. Richards; Sergeant-at-Arms, Otto Rossfield; Trustees—Misses Kate Meyer and Teresa Eisel and John Ross-field.
Father O'Connor, realizing and appreciating the noble object of the Catholic Knights of America, will in the near future call a meeting of his parish with a view to organizing a branch of that grand benevolent order. It is believed it will start with fifty charter members.
The members of the Central Committee and other wide awake Knights will be invited to attend and assist in the work of organizing.

JOIN HANDS.

Louisville Will Unite With Jeffersonville on St. Patrick's Day.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Jeffersonville Division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held on Tuesday night. President Frank Hogan occupied the chair and welcomed the visitors from Louisville. Messrs. John Fogarty, Owen McCann, Charles Devitt, Edward Coy, William Dorsey and Dan Tracey, were elected members and initiated. The application of John Patrick was received.
Redmond Stanton reported that the members of the Dramatic Society, who are to produce "Erin Go Bragh" on the night of March 17, St. Patrick's day, were rehearsing and were improving at each rehearsal. Reports of the officers showed an increase of eleven members during the past year and a balance of more than $500 in the treasury.

County President Pat Sullivan, of Louisville, was called upon and announced that he was present to bring a few words of good cheer from the four divisions in Louisville and to say that they would attend the St. Patrick's day celebration of their Jeffersonville brethren. Mr. Sullivan said that this was done to show the friendship and brotherly love that exists among Hibernians and in a light manner to show an appreciation of the favors received in Louisville from Jeffersonville Hibernians. He also addressed a few words of advice to the new members of the order and illustrated it with an amusing anecdote. In conclusion Mr. Sullivan invited the Jeffersonville Hibernians to visit each and all of the Louisville divisions whenever it was convenient. A vote of thanks was tendered County President Sullivan, the Jefferson County Board and all Louisville Hibernians.

William M. Higgins, editor of the Kentucky Irish American, was called upon and made a few appropriate remarks. Redmond Stanton, John Devitt and others also made remarks pertinent to the occasion.
It was announced that a fair would be given in the near future for the benefit of St. Augustine's church. The sentiment of the Hibernians was unanimous in favor of assisting Father O'Connor with his fair, but definite action was postponed until after the St. Patrick's day celebration.

WASHINGTON'S

Name and Memory to Be Honored by the Irish-Americans.

Attorney Thomas P. Walsh Will Be the Orator of the Day.

Grand Ball Will Follow the Musical and Literary Exercises.

THAT FOOLISH ANGLO-SAXON CRAZE

The Irish-American Society will appropriately celebrate Washington's birthday with a literary and musical entertainment at Liederkranz Hall next Monday night.
As the day falls on Sunday, tomorrow, it was deemed wise to hold the celebration on the following day. A select ball will follow the literary exercises. The Committee on Arrangements met in the office of Attorney Thomas P. Walsh last Saturday night. Mr. Tom Tarpey presided.
All sub-committees reported satisfactory progress. The following Reception Committee was appointed:

The following Floor Committee was appointed for the hall: Denny Heffernan, James M. O'Connor, Pat Welsh, Hugh Higgins, Frank Hickey, John Barry and Mark Ryan. They will be assisted by other well known members.

Messrs. Joe Nevill, President Flynn, Thomas Claire, Thomas Keenan, Dennis Minnogue, James Welch, John Ryan, Thomas Tarpey and William M. Higgins will act as a Reception Committee.

The lady patronesses and chaperones include Mesdames John J. Flynn, Joe Nevill, Thomas Keenan, Dennis J.
Minnogue, John Ryan, Thomas Claire, Dennis Heffernan, William M. Higgins, Thomas Tarpey and Thomas Cleary, who will head parties of charming and pretty young women.

Mr. Thomas P. Walsh will be the orator of the evening and the music will be furnished by the Louisville Military Band. Everything points to a successful entertainment socially and financially.

There are carping critics who would deny the right of Irish-Americans to celebrate the natal day of George Washington, the father of his country, the land of their adoption. They tell you this is America, the land of the Anglo-Saxon. Bosh! Was Christopher Columbus an Anglo-Saxon? Was good Father Marquette, Father Breboef and other pioneer missionaries Anglo-Saxons?
Was Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, an Anglo-Saxon? Were there not Irishmen with Washington at Valley Forge? Was not Gen. Montgomery, who fell fighting for American independence, an Irishman? What were Mad Anthony Wayne and Gen. Sullivan and Moylan and Saucy Jack Barry, the father of the American navy? These men fought with Washington. They honored him and loved him. Why, then, should we not honor his memory?

Or again, was Andrew Jackson an Anglo-Saxon in 1812 to 1815? Were Generals Shields and Kearney Anglo-Saxons in 1846-48? In the war of the rebellion and in the Spanish-American war the names of gallant soldiers in rank and file do not smack much of Anglo-Saxon origin.

Take our own day. Is President Roosevelt an Anglo-Saxon? Is John Cudahy or any of his brothers Anglo-Saxons? What about the O'Briens of San Francisco, Marcus Daly, Senator

Clark, the copper king, Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland, who when a priest, carried ammunition to the Fifth Minnesota regiment on the firing line and enabled them to save the day. Are these men Anglo-Saxons? No! No! No! comes a chorus. These men are and were Americans and proud of it. Why should not we be? Let us all honor these men by honoring the name and memory of Washington by attending the celebration of his birthday under the auspices of the Irish-American Society Monday night.

PEACEFUL SLEEP

Fell Upon Miss McDonogh and She Passed Into Eternity.

As peaceful as sleep comes to a baby so was the visit of the angel of death to Miss Catherine McDonogh, a lady who spent nearly half a century in Louisville.
Miss McDonogh died at the residence of her brother, Edward McDonogh, 1212 Sixth street, at 11:40 o'clock last Sunday night. She was born in the County Sligo, Ireland, in 1832, and was consequently seventy years of age. In the early 50's she came to America and lived for awhile at Rutland, Vt. In 1854 she removed to Louisville and took up her residence with her brother Edward, with whom she lived until her death. Miss McDonogh was always noted for her piety, charity and humility. A native of the Isle of Saints, she had her example ever in her mind and lived accordingly.
Four years ago she suffered from an attack of the grip, which recurred each year. However, she was always ready to die and an hour before her death recited her prayers. Her death was a beautiful one, the death of a God-fearing Irish-woman.

The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Solemn mass of requiem was celebrated by Very Rev. Father Fowler, assisted by Fathers Kennedy and Martin.
Father McFeely also assisted in singing the office of the dead. Father Fowler preached a brief funeral sermon on the good life lived by the deceased and of her devotion to the Order of St. Dominic.
Miss Maggie Scally sang "Ave Maria" and Miss Katie Green sang "Angels Ever Bright and Fair" during the mass.

The pall-bearers were John, Edward, Frank and William McDonogh, nephews of the dead lady, and James Lydon and Sam Joyce. The interment was in St.
Louis cemetery. May she rest in peace.

ELMS CUT DOWN.

Formed the Attractive Avenue
Leading to Gethsemani Abbey.

One of the most attractive features of the Abbey of Gethsemani is no more, says the New Haven Echo. The magnificent English elm trees that formed the avenue leading up to the "Porter Lodge" have been cut down, which destroys much of the beauty of the place. There were four rows of these trees, planted generations ago and so set as to form a perfect shade at all times. They were full grown and their beauty was such that visitors always remembered them.
A few years ago they were attacked by a beetle that had about killed them, and the only thing to be done was to cut them down so that new trees could be planted in their place. This will be done either this spring or next fall.

CLEARY'S MOVE.

Thomas Cleary has removed his place of business from First street, between Main and the river, to 209 First street.
His friends are congratulating him on the change.

PROGRESS

Is Being Made in the Catholic Collisium Movement
Just Now.

Many Men Braved Weather to Attend a General Meeting.

A Sub-Committee Will Confer With Bishop McCloskey at Once.

SOMETHING WHICH WE MUST HAVE

Despite the inclemency of the weather several hundred Catholic gentlemen assembled at St. Francis' Hall in the hase-ment of the Cathedral last Sunday night to discuss the movement looking toward the erection of a building to be used as a gymnasium, natatorium, public hall, etc.
Nearly every parish in the city was represented. There were men from Butcher-town, Clifton, Portland, California, Limerick, Germantown and Parlistown, who left their comfortable homes to brave the elements and to aid the Right Reverend Bishop in the new movement. Surely they were there to do something, and their presence is an evidence that when the movement is finally set afoot it will be carried to a successful conclusion.

Mr. Thomas P. Walsh, the Temporary Chairman of the organization, called the meeting to order and stated the object of the gathering. He also outlined what had been done at the meeting one week previous. The Rev. Dr. George Schumann, Chairman of the committee selected to choose a name for the organization, made a comprehensive report of what his committee had done in the way of trying to select a name. The committee recommended that the choice of a name be deferred until the organization be put on a sure footing. His recommendation was adopted and the committee continued with the understanding that it will receive suggestions as to an appropriate name.

Temporary Secretary Harry Veenneman called the roll of churches and the responses showed few without representatives. The clergy were present in goodly numbers. Suggestions were called for, but the laymen, as a matter of courtesy, waited for the priests to take the initiative. Rev. Fathers Raffo and White were called upon, but wanted to hear from the laymen. Both of these beloved pastors said they had no doubt the laymen would co-operate with the Bishop when his plans were fully understood.
Very Rev. Father Paul Alf, Very Rev.
Father Cronin and Rev. Father O'Connor were each called upon, but declined to say anything until the laymen were heard from. Rev. Father William Gausepohl, pastor of St. Mary Magda-lene's church, was called upon and made the hit of the evening. He said, among other things, that "Great problems are not solved by sitting in an easy chair.
Catholics ought to do all in their power to keep pace with the times and must not be slow to realize the necessities of the times." He said also that the public hall was a necessity, and that the Catholics must have it.

Rev. P. M. J. Rock was called upon.
He said he would have more to say when the plans of the organization were ready.
Mr. Jerry Bacon, speaking in behalf of the laymen, said the building contemplated was badly needed. He said there was no city in the United States in which Catholics were so far behind in this respect. Mr. Dillon Mapother spoke along

STUPENDOUS

Will Be the Celebration of Pope Leo's Silver
Jubilee.

Priests and Laymen of This Diocese Do Their Part.

Knights of Columbus Have Arranged an Entertaining Programme.

WHAT IT MEANS TO CATHOLICS

The Right Reverend Bishop in a pastoral letter issued last week invited the Catholic clergy and laymen of the diocese to celebrate the silver jubilee of Pope Leo XIII. On February 20 he was elected Pope and on March 3, 1878, he was formally crowned. As a matter of course, every Catholic priest in the diocese offered up mass yesterday in thanksgiving that our Holy Father had been spared to us so long, asking that his life be prolonged several years and that the prayers of the congregation be offered for his intentions.

The laymen were called upon to celebrate on March 3, but as Wednesday, March 4, is the regular meeting night of the Knights of Columbus, that society will hold exercises to commemorate the Pope's coronation. Addresses will be made by several able speakers, members of the council. Appropriate vocal and instrumental music will also be rendered.
The exercises will conclude with the singing of the Te Deum by all present.
No admission fee will be charged, but a general invitation is extended to friends of members of the council.

That the Roman Catholic church is one, that it is holy, that it is apostolic, is again demonstrated. In every land where civilized man has put his foot prayers, songs of praise, the holy sacrifice of the mass, are being offered for the welfare and intentions of our Holy Father. From Alaska to Patagonia, from Finland's frozen fields through the verdant valleys of sunny Saxony, across the Alps, over the great desert of Sahara on down to the end of the African peninsula, from San Francisco to the Philippines, from New York to Tokio, everywhere prayers are going up to the Almighty, beseeching Him to prolong the days of His Vicar upon earth.

The interval between February 20 and March 3 will be well filled with Triduums of thanksgiving, literary "academies," Papal audiences, etc. March 3, is of course, to be the culminating point of the jubilee, for it will mark the completion of the twenty-fifth year since Leo XIII. was crowned. The ceremony in St. Peter's bids fair to be the most magnificent Papal function of the last quarter of a century. Numerous pilgrimages from different parts of the Catholic universe will be there for the occasion, and the immense spaces of St. Peter's will be taxed to their utmost to find places for them and the residents of Rome. It is stated that about 65,000 tickets will be issued for the function.
All the Cardinals present in Rome, and from many other countries, will take part in the procession, which will be made up of the entire Papal Court, Prelates, Chamberlains of all degrees, the famous Sistine choir, under the leadership of Perosi, and in the center of it the aged Pontiff himself, borne high above the multitude in the Sede Gestatoria by stalwart bearers in crimson, with the traditional "habille," or fans of ostrich feathers, on either side. He will wear the jubilee tiara. Around the Papal altar a number of tribunes are to be erected for the members of royal families, the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See, the Roman Patriarch and nobility, and distinguished persons of all kinds. The ceremony itself is to be a very short one; the Holy Father will impart the apostolic blessing to Rome and the whole world from a raised dais in front of the altar, and then the Te Deum will be sung by all the thousands present. On April 28 his Holiness attains "the years of Peter" in the See of Rome. The occasion will be observed with great rejoicings throughout the world. One feature of the jubilee feasts in which the Holy Father takes a fatherly interest is the banquet which is to be given in the hall of the Bevefere, in the Vatican, to a thousand poor people of Rome.

COUNTY BOARD

Held an Interesting and Important Meeting Last Week.

The regular meeting of the County Board, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was held at Hibernian Hall last Friday night.
The meeting was well attended and the quarterly reports of each of the four divisions were read, showing the order to be in a flourishing condition.
It was decided to leave the management of the hall to the Presidents of the four divisions, with Mike Tynan, of Division 1, as Chairman of the committee.
The members of the County Board decided to give a ball in Easter Monday week. The selection of a ball was left to the following committee: James Welsh, Thomas Callahan and Patrick J. Welsh.
This ball will be given under the auspices of the four divisions and each division will share alike in the profits.
The County Board also decided that instead of having a celebration on St.
Patrick's day to ask all Hibernians in Louisville to attend the celebration to be given by Jeffersonville Hibernians at Spilth's Theater on March 17.

HER LIFE TO CHARITY.

Miss Carrie Hennessy, a popular young lady of St. Louis Bertrand parish, left Thursday to enter the novitiate at Nazareth. Miss Hennessy is a young woman of lovely disposition, who has after due deliberation decided to devote her life to the work of a Sister of Charity.
She is a sister of John H. Hennessy, President of Division 4. A. O. H. Her many friends pray that she will succeed in her vocation.

SATOLLI COUNCIL

Will Hold a Reception and Dance Monday Night.

Satolli Council, Y. M. I., met Monday night and, notwithstanding the cold weather, the attendance was large.
President Harry Colgan was in the chair.
Messrs. John J. Crotty and J. F. Coady were appointed on the Employment Committee. The Amusement Committee announced that it had arranged for a reception and dance on Monday night, February 23. The club house has been newly renovated and refurbished, and the dance will be in the nature of a house-warming. On account of the dance a meeting of the council will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

INSURE SUCCESS.

The Catholics of Louisville ought to have a Coliseum—should have had it years ago. Now that a start has been made, it should be thoroughly discussed, a definite plan mapped out, and then by united effort push it to completion. Now is the time to talk, air your views and ideas, that there may be a better understanding, and when an agreement is reached it may be satisfactory and united action insure success.

FORFEIT ITS CHARTERS.

The efforts to have the City Council give to the people better, more convenient and extended street car service have thus far failed, except when the street car company was willing. This company, operating under charters of questionable legality, enjoying franchises given gratis, not only ignores its obligations at will, refuses to provide transit service, blocks the way for any other company doing so, but defiantly threatens to stop its cars if interfered with. And a subservient Council sustains the railway autocrat against the people.

When a beggar, lifted on horseback, would ride down the King, it is time to unhorse the rascal; when Councilmen, elected by and deriving authority from the people, betray their trust to the detriment of the people, it is time to oust such Councilmen. The people have the right and the power, and they must call a halt and bring the railway company and its pliant tools to terms.

A corporation is but a creature—not a master—allowed privileges in return for obligations to serve the public. The railway company has long since forfeited all privileges by failure and refusal to comply with its obligations, and in this it is aided and abetted by the Council. Other officials, however, have a duty to perform, and should be called upon to do it. Whose duty is it to enter suit against corporations for forfeiture of charter? The law provides this for the protection of the public, and it also imposes the duty on some one. Our people should arouse, unite and go after this arrogant corporation by stirring up indifferent officials. The Council is not the whole push; indeed it is not an essential, but being controlled by the railway company, is used to dilly-dally and ward off the proper course.

Go into court and demand that the railway company comply with or forfeit its charters, and there will be no occasion for bothering about the Council.

PROMOTERS OF CRIME.

Far be it from us to discredit the motives or sincerity of the ministers who are leading the crusade against crime in this city. From their sermons, interviews and procedure, however, it is manifest that they do not know much of the nature, extent, methods and cause of crime in this city. Their denunciations of "causes" are varied, their remedies likewise—and many of them, though well meant, miss the mark. Not a few of them are clearly "raw recruits" in the army of reform, whose zeal excites only ridicule among the irreverent, is taken advantage of by dive-keepers to draw patronage and amuse their patrons, and whose remedies are ineffective. Their denunciations are exaggerated, as all informed fully recognize, and exaggeration of an evil tends to its mitigation with conservative people. They condemn the police, public officials generally, saloons, gamblers, press, politicians—everything and everybody except strictly moral Christians. It is evident, if they are correct, the majority is overwhelmingly against them.

We do not minimize the crime in this city; there is far too much of it; it is widespread, all but immune and privileged; but reform must be based upon facts and justice—the sheep must be separated from the goats, even in a work of reform, and the root of the evil must be reached to be effective. That which merely punishes the scapegoats, pinches the henchmen, scotches the wings, as it were, only causes a temporary halt to be followed by a worse condition. The power which controls, the real beneficiaries of this criminality, must be exposed and broken up. While all classes enumerated may be, partly at least, responsible for the crime, fostering, shielding and even protecting it, as charged, they are subservient and only contributory; the outgrowth, part of the machinery, that is the source, the power responsible for and profiting by it.

The police, so roundly abused, are not to blame. The sole duty of the police is to obey orders. The saloons are not, as a rule, the haunts of criminals nor hotbeds of vice; saloons, as well as other branches of traffic, are in their classes. Our public officials generally are honorable and faithful to duty; those who are not should be made to bear the onus of their shortcomings. Our lawyers, as a whole, are not deserving of censure for their conduct, either professionally or personally. The "criminal" lawyer has earned his reputation, but those who hire and use him are the real felons. Even the gambler, as a rule, is not degraded and criminal, nor an aider of criminality. The press—well the press cares very little about what the reverend gentlemen think of its duty or line of conduct.

The politicians—coming close to it. But all politicians are not guilty. The real politicians, who are in politics for the honor and glory of office, in support of principles—simon-pure politicians—not they. But those in politics for the money they make, directly and indirectly; some are not known as politicians, but as business men, respected citizens, prominent in society, and—would you believe it? church members. They derive profit from crime; some are the real owners of dives, the supposed "proprietor" receiving a salary or percentage; others are mortgagors who furnish the capital for a share of profits; others receive tribute for their "influence;" others have a monopoly of trade in goods sold in criminal resorts; and how many of our "first families" receive extortionate rents, (through agents, of course) from these dens of vice?

This class, receiving a regular revenue from crime, are the root of the evil. They are the source, the manipulators of corrupt politics, irrespective of party. They are the "bosses" who dictate primaries, conventions and elections to defeat candidates and legislation inimical to their "grafts;" to prevent enforcement of law to stop their revenue and to protect their henchmen from penalties. The mercenary official, the dive-keeper, the "criminal" lawyer, the "professional jurymen," the "perjured witness," are their means to an end and their victims as well, not infrequently their slaves.

The fees, tributes, rake-offs, profits, added to the cost of running criminal resorts, suggest an immense sum. Where does it come from? Not the degraded habitues, for they have nothing, nor the laboring or middle class, for, while many of them squander their earnings, they have not enough to spend to pay the price. Then it must and does come from the wealthy. The sons of well-to-do and respectable parents, "sowing their wild oats," are the principal patrons, their spending exceeding any possible salary—where do they get the money? Let indulgent parents answer. "Respectable citizens" of mature years and honored reputations, are not unknown "down the line"—and they are the best paying patrons. Plucked and fleeced, they pay anything to avoid exposure. And it is this "respectable" class that, to shield themselves from publicity, must and do suppress publications, and even secure immunity from interference for crime and criminals. If our ministerial friends would go through the "red light" district during the wee small hours of a Sunday morning the familiar faces they would meet might shock them, but prove that we are not libeling the "respectable" class.

To reach and suppress these real promoters and protectors of crime will be an arduous task, but it is the only effective remedy.

Why is it that Catholic editors, and some priests, speak disparagingly of the Catholic Federation and Knights of Columbus? We do not feel authorized to question their motive, though it seems plain enough. Any organization approved by the proper ecclesiastical authority is sufficiently Catholic, moral and beneficent to merit and will receive the respect and encouragement of the Kentucky Irish American. That is enough for us. If others insist upon better certificate of character, that is their business. We fully recognize the sole right of the episcopacy of the church to decide such matters, and have entire confidence in their ability, wisdom and devotion to sacred duty to advise correctly. With due respect to all, we prefer to look to the episcopacy for our guidance in matters involving religion and morals.

 All white tea gowns are the height of the mode and grow more elaborate week by week.
 Ombre silk stockings are already in the market, and in some shades are remarkably pretty.
 Steel leather bands and hand embroidered steel are finding much favor in Paris as trappings.
 Fleece-lined pique washes perfectly, yet has a warmth that commends it for early spring shirt waists.
 Irish lace has lost much of its prestige, chiefly because its tremendous popularity brought about a flood of cheap imitations.
 Flower turbans are to be pre-eminently the things this spring, and already charming models of the kind have been sent over from Paris.
 Wool embroidery in crevel stitches are to be more popular than ever for trimming woolen gowns. The wool laces will also be used.
 Dangles and tassels of all kinds resurround on the spring model gowns, and these pendant ornaments are being made in linens and cottons for use on the wash frocks.
 Yak lace or heavy cluny dyed to match material is much used upon woolen frocks. The cloth is cut away under the lace and a chignon lining is used to soften the effect.
 Pendants made of velvet to match the material of the gown are a new wrinkle. They are made of strips of velvet rolled into semblance of a bud, and are an effective change from chenille and silk pendants.
 Sashes are a foregone conclusion as an accompaniment for summer frocks and are much worn for evening gowns now. Finishing sash ends with lace applique and running a design of inset lace for some distance from the ends will add greatly to the effect of the sash.

 Ombre or shaded effects are shown in many of the new sash ribbons, and it is said that the shading will also be seen in the sheer dress fabrics. A popular Parisian actress recently wore a frock shading from flame color at the hem to palest salmon pink at the décolletage, and the success of the frock turned the thoughts of the makers of fashions toward the things ombre.
YOUNG LADIES HURT.
 Misses Mollie Dorsey and Grace Coyle, employees of Tapp, Leathers & Co.'s clothing factory in Louisville, were painfully injured Monday morning by flying pieces of iron. They were working near a dynamo when it exploded. Both young ladies were removed to their respective homes in Jeffersonville. Their friends hope for their speedy recovery.

POSTPONED.

Lecture of Rev. Father Phelan Set For Monday Night,
March 9.

The blizzard of last Monday night to some extent interfered with the arrangements made by Trinity Council, Young Men's Institute, for an instructive and interesting evening's entertainment.
Nevertheless the hall was comfortably filled with the members of Trinity Council and their friends.

Owing to the illness of Peter J. Cosgrove the debate, which was to have been a fixture of the evening, was postponed, as was also the formal address to be delivered by the Very Rev. Father Albert Phelan, C. P. However, Father Phelan was present and delighted all with an informal address. He was introduced by Dr. Philip Beutel.

Father Phelan paid an eloquent tribute to the spirit of brotherly love. He said that this was an age of organization.
Man is a social creature, but never in the history of the universe was mankind so taken up with the idea of organization.
Organization is the leading factor in all civilization and the grand old Catholic church is the mother, the model of all organizations that have ever been given to the world. He spoke in the highest terms of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, its aims and benevolence and of the land from whence its members sprang. Likewise he paid tribute to the Young Men's Institute and the Knights of Columbus, all of which he declared were societies which deserved the indorsement of the church and warranted the commendation of the clergy. The Young Men's Institute in particular with its motto, "Pro Deo, Pro Patria," was in accord with American spirit and institutions, a motto derived from the noblest motives in religion and in man.

Father Phelan was warmly applauded and promised to deliver his formal address at the meeting to be held three weeks hence. Short speeches were made by Messrs. David O'Connell, Emmet Sla-tery, James B. Kelly, John J. Sullivan, Louis Borntraeger, James Perry, of Settoli Council; Eugene J. Cooney, Ed Boiler, President Tom Garvey and others.

The subject to be debated at the meeting to be held three weeks hence is, "Resolved, That wealth is a greater crime producer than poverty." Attorney Peter J. Cosgrove will champion the affirmative, while Eugene J. Cooney will take care of the negative end of the proposition.

MACAULEY'S.

The ever popular Bostonians with those popular artists, Henry Clay Barnabe, William H. McDonald and Grace Van Studdford, will be the attraction at Macauley's Theater the first two nights of next week. On Monday night "Robin Hood" will be given. "Maid Marian" will be given on Tuesday night.
"The Suburban," Charles T. Dazey's latest melodrama, will occupy the boards at Macauley's during the latter part of the week.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Rev. D. O'Connell, of the Cathedral at Waterford, has been transferred to Carrick-on-Suir, where he replaces Father Martin Power, who has been promoted to be parish priest at Carrickagee.

On Saturday morning his Lordship the Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan celebrated mass in the Cathedral, being the eleventh anniversary of his consecration as Bishop of Waterford and Lismore. The sacred music was beautifully rendered by the well trained choir.

The Galway Observer and Express, the Nationalist and Unionist newspapers, announce as candidates mentioned locally in connection with the Parliamentary vacancy, the following Nationalist and local men: Messrs. J. McDonnell, H. C.
Murphy and Richard J. Kelly, who has taken a deep interest in Galway. All are natives of the county.

Tuesday afternoon, when the tide got low, some men at work on the Pier Head quay at Youghal saw the body of a man in the center of the market dock. A young man named Morris went to the spot, brought it to the side of the quay, and on examination it was found to be the body of John Walsh, of Windmill lane.
The poor man was seen in the street by several parties during the evening. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

A large and representative meeting of Waterford citizens was held in the Town Hall, for the purpose of taking steps to co-operate with the Central Committee in Dublin, in connection with the big bazaar being organized to meet the heavy expenses which the erection of a central training school for the Irish Christian Brothers at Marino, Dublin, will involve.
Practical resolutions were submitted to the meeting and a committee appointed to carry out the work.

A very sad fatality is reported from Clonsilla, County Clare. It would appear from the information to hand that a small farmer named Pat Hannon was returning home in a jennet and car from Limerick. The night was pretty dark, and somewhere near Cappavilla bridge the jennet walked into the canal at an unprotected spot, and both Hannon and the animal were drowned. Poor Hannon's body was found on Saturday morning, and the jennet and car also some distance away.

The body of Jeremiah Coffey, District Superintendent of the Great Southern & Western railway at Tralee, was found here yesterday at the river at Castlemaine quay, fifty yards from the depot, where he was supposed to have fallen into the river on Saturday evening.
Coffey was returning to catch the train at Castlemaine on Saturday evening and requested Father Daly, who was with him, to run to the station to detain the train for him. In the darkness, it is supposed, he missed his way and walked into the unprotected river.

Deep and general regret will be felt at the announcement of the death of John Downes, of Kilsnane. The sad event took place on Saturday evening under painful circumstances. He left for his home at Kilsnane on Saturday evening accompanied by some friends, but had not proceeded far from the town of Hospital when he took ill and was taken to a neighboring house, where spiritual and medical aid was summoned. He was a man in the prime of life, of fine physique and of the most genial disposition. He took a deep interest in Gaelic pastimes, and was founder of the famous Kilsnane hurling team, whose deeds were so often crowned in every part of Ireland with the laurels of victory. Downes was an earnest Nationalist and took an active part in the advancement of the cause.

The estimates of rates prepared and submitted by the clerks of the various District Councils and Unions throughout Ireland show that the working of the local government act, unwieldy and cumbersome though it is, has been attended with a much larger amount of success than was at first anticipated.
When the act first came into operation the Conservatives, who had to give place to the Nationalists, predicted all sorts of failures and huffed to their breasts the for them, consoling reflection that the nominations of the people would make a hopeless muddle of everything. Prophecies of that character all remained unfulfilled, and the best answer to the oft repeated assertions of the landlord class are the reduced estimates which have just been under consideration, and which demonstrate that in the face of difficulties the local public bodies in this country have administered the act with economy and much more fairness than was experienced in the days of the defunct grand juries.

The election of Mr. Michael Donnelly as Mayor of Limerick for 1903 was welcomed very warmly, not alone by the working classes, but by most of the citizens who have followed the trend of municipal and political events in the city for the past fifteen years. Mr.
Donnelly is a Tipperary man, but the best part of his youth and manhood has been spent in Limerick. He is par excellence a democrat of the truest type, and since his election to the corporation in 1885 he has ever been the champion of the workingman. His first essay in municipal life was in opposition to the famous extra police tax, when in conjunction with Alderman O'Mara, Councillors Anglin, Riordan and others, he successfully resisted a writ of mandamus, and beat the Government hollow. He was also an earnest advocate all along of having the corporation in control of the lighting and waterworks of the city.
He holds over to the idea that municipal-ization of such matters tends to the public good and to reduction of rates.

He has been a poor law guardian since 1896, and the poor have ever in him a devoted and sincere friend. In political life he has an unblemished record. He became President of the Sanfield branch of the Land League when the coercion act was passed, and remained at the head of the branch until it ceased to exist. He was also prominently connected with the amnesty movement.

NEW BOOK.

Ireland In Pictures Is a Work of Art and Should be Appreciated.

"Ireland in Pictures" is the title of a new and handsome book just placed on sale. It is being represented in Louisville by F. J. McGuire. This volume is indeed a work of art and one that should be in every Irish-American household.
People of Irish birth from Derry to Cork and from Galway to Dublin will find numerous pictures of historical points of interest in their respective counties. A description of each picture is given by the Hon. John F. Finerty, of Chicago.
Maurice Francis Egan, the celebrated literateur says of it: "The artists who directed the printing have preserved the delicate effects of atmosphere and distance so that one really seems to stand at Holy Cross or in the Four Courts and to breathe the very air."

John T. Keating, ex-National President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Bishop McPaul, of Trenton, N. J.; Maude Gonne, Bishop John Lancaster Spelding, of Peoria, and other prominent people have expressed their sincere approval of the work. The Kentucky Irish American bespeaks a welcome for Mr. Mc-Guire in every household. If you don't care to buy the book it will cost you nothing to look at it.

AGREEABLY SURPRISED.

We read that Maud Gonne has become a Catholic. We are agreeably surprised, says the venerable Father Cronin in the Buffalo Union and Times. But it is added that she is going to be married.
Ah, who'd a thought it? We could as soon believe that Diana of the silver bow would stoop to such prosaic business as "Ireland's Joan of Arc." Well, here's to her, at all events! May her willowy form never grow less lithe nor that Kerry shock of disheveled tresses become less picturesque. May she be a paragon of the domestic virtues, a dutiful wife and fruitful mother—leaving politics in future to the Major.

LENTEN REGULATIONS.

The regulations for Lent for the Louisville diocese will be made known in all the Catholic churches tomorrow. They will doubtless be the same as those promulgated for several years by the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. Ash Wednes-at the hands of the division degree team.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Duluth reports a steady increase of membership.
All the ladies are working hard to build up a big society and are meeting with success.

At a recent meeting of the San Francisco County Board it was unanimously decided to hold their grand annual St.
Patrick's day hall on the evening of March 17 at Armory Hall.

has been chosen chaplain of the Hiber-

Williams. Father Harkins is chaplain of Division 60.

Rev. Thomas Leydon lectured for the division at Beuton, Ill., last week. He took for his subject, "The Boy and Girl of the Period." Every seat in the opera house was occupied and many were compelled to stand.

The leaders of the order in Washington are arranging for a farewell reception to Bishop Conaty before his departure from the Catholic University. No one has won the love of the Hibernians more than Bishop Conaty.

The Washington birthday entertainment under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians was held at the Alhambra in San Francisco on Thursday night. Rev. P. C. Yorke delivered an ad-making preparations for their annual the Irish Volunteers.

Mrs. Rose Keating, of Baltimore, a member of the National Advisory Board of the Ladies' Auxiliary, was in Washington recently on official business.
Mrs. Keating is one of the three officers under whose jurisdiction will come the raising of the $10,000 scholarship for Trinity College. The raising of the endowment will shortly be undertaken by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The latest addition to the ranks of the Hibernian military organization of Masachusetts is the Second Hibernian regiment. This regiment was formed principally through the efforts of State President John A. Ryan and Military Commissioner Dillon. Both of these officers paid a visit to Fall River recently with the intention of organizing a new regiment. They succeeded in that a cadet company connected with the Fall River division of the order was mustered into the Second regiment. This company is composed of seventy men and their first public appearance under the new name will be at the monster parade to be held on St. Patrick's day at Newport.

At a meeting of the Irish Parliamentary party, held last Monday, Hon. John Redmond was re-elected leader.

NO TALKING NEEDED.

How many of the little people have ever made remarks like baby's brother here referred to?
"Does the baby talk yet?" asked a friend of the family.
"No," replied the baby's disgusted little brother, "the baby doesn't have to talk."

"Doesn't have to talk?"
"No. All the baby has to do is to yell, and it gets everything there is in the house that's worth having."

A SLIGHT DIFFERENCE.

"How would you define exercise, as distinguished from work?" asked the teacher.

"Exercise," answered Johnny, "is work you like to do, and work is exercise you don't like to do."

DISAPPOINTMENT.

A little girl who had been sent to school for the first time, on her return confessed to her mother that she did not like it. "The teacher put me on a chair," she explained, "and told me to sit there for the present, and I sat and sat, but she never gave me any present."

FRANKFORT BUDGET.

Michael Buckley, a Popular Contractor, Passed Away Last Sunday.

Michael Buckley, the well known building contractor, died at his home in Frankfort early Sunday morning. He had been ill for several weeks and his death was not unexpected. The deceased was fifty-seven years of age, and is survived by his wife, John T. Buckley, a brother; Mrs. E. J. Italy, a sister, and his aged mother. The funeral took place from the Church of the Good Shepherd on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Father Major conducting the services. The Frankfort lodge of Elks attended the funeral in a body.

One of the largest and most entertaining sessions held in months took place Monday night, when Lambert Young Council, Y. M. I., held their regular semi-monthly meeting. The unusual attendance was doubtless partially due to the fact that Frank Schimpf was to be shown the mysteries of the third degree.

The Initiation Committee, composed of J. H. Sower, Jr., Will Obermann, Frank Jeffers, Edward Foley and F. B. Weitzel, had been hard at work upon a new initiation, which was used for the first time. After Mr. Schimpf had passed through the mysteries of the degree the members repaired to the Saratoga Cafe, where an elegant banquet had been prepared. After the inner man had been satisfied cigars were lighted and the council went into social session. D. J. McNamara was toastmaster and toasts were responded to by President Lutkenieler, Vice President Madigan, Treasurer Newman, Secretary Canty, Messrs. L. Newman, W. A. Downey, J. R. Sower, W. A. Lutkenieler, J. H. Sower, L. T. Schreff, R. W. Dehoney, W. J. Kennedy, J. T. Dolan, Lambert Gohber, Edward Foley, C. Fugazzi and others. The social session was a great success and reflected much credit upon W. A. Downey, L. Newman and W. A. Lutkenieler, the committee appointed to get it up.

The Frankfort Commercial Club at a recent meeting appointed a special committee, composed of representative business men, to wait upon the State Capital custodian, Col. Lyons, and request him to remove the eight-foot iron fence that has surrounded the State House square for the last half-century. This fence has caused the Capitol building to be taken by strangers passing through Frankfort for either the county jail or an insane asylum, and the custodian will confer a favor upon the citizens of Frankfort as well as the State by ordering the fence removed and sold for old iron.

Capt. W. A. Lutkenieler paid a flying visit to Louisville and Jeffersonville on Sunday last. The genial young Captain has made quite frequent trips to the latter city of late.

D. P. Davis spent Sunday in Louisville.

John W. Gayle spent Sunday in Louisville with friends.

J. T. Dolan, the popular young shoe clerk, spent Sunday in Louisville.

Mr. Steve Gibbs, of Jeffersonville, spent last Sunday in Frankfort. Mr. Gibbs made a large circle of friends in the Capital City during his temporary residence in the past year.

Miss Nelly Sullivan was the guest of Miss Emma Bell in Louisville the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McNamara, of Lexington, are the guests of relatives in this city.

Lambert Young Council, Y. M. I., will close the social season until after Lent on Monday evening, February 23, with a grand-masque ball. The Frankfort orchestra will render the music on this occasion, which is a guarantee that it will be first-class in every particular. The council has been giving these masque balls annually for several years and they have always proved highly successful, and this one will not be an exception to the general rule. Invitations have been extended to friends in surrounding towns and quite a number of visitors are expected.

Col. William McKeever, one of Frankfort's leading young business men, spent Sunday with relatives in Georgetown.

BIG BATCH

Of Candidates Initiated into Mackin Council Tuesday Night.

Sixteen new members were initiated by Mackin Council, Y. M. I., last Tuesday night. Owing to the large number of candidates and to the interest manifested it was deemed wise to hold the meeting in St. Anthony's Hall and that spacious edifice was crowded with members of Mackin Council. Captains Vinie Smith and Ben Sand and their aids were congratulated on securing such a large number of candidates. The degree team gave a splendid exemplification of the ritual.

The Visiting Committee reported Clem Kemper and A. J. Gross as improving, and Jack Raidy no better. The new members initiated were Albert Mathias, Arthur Gathof, Edward Kippes, Frank Kippes, James O'Brien, Val Kast, Louis Eschrich, John Humphrey, Joseph Wald, Frank Maas, Charles Smith, Hugh Reilly, Val Dahlen, Seb Hubbuch, Frank Ratterman and Paul Coleman.

After the initiation there was a social session during which refreshments were served and vocal and instrumental music was rendered. Short but interesting talks were made by President Tom Garvey, Vice President William Hillierich, and Edward Bosler, all of Trinity Council.

FORTY HOURS.

Forty hours' devotion will be held next week at St. Cecilia's church, beginning at the high mass Sunday morning. Fathers Brady and Kalisher will be assisted by a number of the reverend clergy, and it is expected that many will approach the sacraments.

IS SHE AN INGRATE?

Mrs. Hattie Nuckols, the woman who last week attempted to secure the release of her daughter, Martha Nuckols, from the Convent of the Good Shepherd, has been the recipient of charity from St. Cecilia's conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society for more than a year.
